

NAVY SAYS 44 SAVED OFF WARSHIP

Russians Retreat in Great Leap-Frog of Machines and Civilians as Nazis Advance

Observers Believe Red Armies Have Little Chance of Saving Rostov; Prepare to Dynamite It Into Ruins

(By The Associated Press)

Russia was reported to be executing another massive leap-frog withdrawal before the onslaught of Adolf Hitler's invasion armies today, evacuating most of the civilian population and machinery from Rostov-on-the-Don as the Germans smashed deeper into the upper Donets river industrial basin.

A city of 520,000, about the size of New Orleans or Minneapolis, Rostov is the gateway to the vital Caucasus oil fields and the southern anchor of the 1,200-mile battlefront. London military observers said Soviet Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were still offering fierce resistance at the approaches to Rostov—with the Germans 10 miles away, at latest reports—but that there appeared to be little chance of saving the city.

Russian engineers already have heavily mined the Don river port, preparing to dynamite it into ruins at the signal for retreat.

Cross River at Seven Points

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said axis forces had crossed the upper Donets river at several points—apparently in a wide flanking movement intended to engulf Rostov—and the Berlin radio broadcast reports that the west bank of the river was now in axis hands.

In the Crimean campaign, where the Germans are driving to capture Russia's big Black sea naval base of Sevastopol, the Nazi high command said German and Rumanian troops were continuing their pursuit of soviet forces.

Soviet military dispatches acknowledged that the battle of the approaches to the Crimea had become increasingly critical, with the Nazis continuing to widen the gap they cut through the defense line across the four-mile-wide Perekop isthmus, which links the Crimea with the U. S. S. R. mainland.

Hold Nazi Onslaught

A British radio broadcast, however, said the Russians were holding up the Nazi onslaught about 25 miles south of the Perekop isthmus.

The Russians also forecast a mighty new German offensive against Moscow, declaring that the Nazis had brought up masses of reserves and were ready to attack soon.

A London radio broadcast said a huge-scale battle was raging 65 miles northwest of Moscow, with control of the town of Volokolamsk at stake.

Front-line dispatches to Red Star, the soviet army newspaper, further conceded great new danger to the munitions-making center of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, where the Germans were reported to have battered their way into the suburbs.

Reds Retreat at Tula

Red Star said Russian troops were still retreating at Tula, under rear guard action.

Freezing weather hardened the mud in which German armored units had wallowed for many days, permitting Nazi panzers to swing into action.

Soviet Gen. Gregory K. Zhukov, central front commander, was reported rushing reinforcements to the Tula danger zone, and as

RAF Strikes Along "Invasion Coast"

(By The Associated Press)

London, Nov. 1.—Stepping up its battle of the west, the RAF hurled a mile-long formation against the French "invasion coast" today after an overnight bombing which was reported to have hit 10 ships at sea and key cities in Germany, occupied France and Italy.

Watchers at Deal, on England's southeast coast, saw the day shift go into action, heading toward Calais and Boulogne through squalls of snow, sleet and hail with an armada that blotted out a mile of sky for the brief moment it swept overhead.

Ten vessels, including a tanker, a large supply vessel and an escort ship were reported hit last night off the Norwegian coast and the Frisian islands along the Dutch coast.

The RAF struck anew at Naples, on the ship of the Italian boot, and the Sicilian ports of Licata and Palermo, but the British report on these raids, apparently by the middle eastern RAF command had not been received.

British Cabinet May Be Shaken; Halifax Beaverbrook Involved

Parliament Member Says Churchill Must Have Win-the-War Group

London, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Cabinet changes involving Lord Beaverbrook, minister of supply, and Lord Halifax, ambassador to Washington and a member of the war cabinet, are imminent, Edgar Louis Granville, a liberal national member of parliament, said today. In a business men's luncheon speech, Granville said:

"It is now generally accepted that cabinet changes are imminent. They will be surprises. They will affect the minister of supply, Lord Halifax, and the foreign office. "Churchill must be given a win-the-war cabinet. Men like Beaverbrook and Bevin (Ernest Bevin, minister of labor) should be free of all departmental responsibility."

Lord Beaverbrook is known to be suffering from asthma and it has been reported he might not fill the remaining two months of a six months period for which he undertook to serve. Lord Halifax has been a main target of the commons minority.

Heckle the Cabinet

Parliamentary critics of the government, unappeased by assurances of all-out aid for Russia, heckled the war cabinet today in an effort to force a reply from Prime Minister Churchill.

Laborite Emanuel Shinwell declared that "there is irrefutable evidence of lack of unity among government departments and ministers who are constantly 'passing the buck' from one department to another."

Speaking at Warrington, in Lancashire, Shinwell asserted that full cooperation among Britain, the United States and Russia would in the end prove invincible, but he said that Britain must "pull her full weight" in the combination.

"Not Sharing Sacrifices" Lord Strabolgi, chief labor whip in the house of commons, asserted before the Fabian Society in London that Britain was not sharing the sacrifices of the Russians "in the common struggle," and he raised a series of questions in pursuance of his stand ten days ago

CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER VISITS AT HYDE PARK

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada, arriving here for two days of conference with President Roosevelt, said today that "it would not surprise me if all phases of the situation concerning the two nations should come up in the course of the conversations."

"We shall talk about everything, I expect," the prime minister asserted. Asked whether he expected to return to Canada with a complete understanding, King responded that there had been that for a long time.

He talked briefly with reporters in a private railway car in which he came from Ottawa to nearby Poughkeepsie.

Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, a refugee in Ottawa, arrived in another private car with her two children and several attendants.

Shies From Questioning The prime minister shied away from discussing specific Canadian-American defense problems. To a question, for instance, whether the American navy had taken control of the strategic port of Halifax, he suggested that the inquiry be submitted to the navy.

Reporters remarked that there was great interest in this country in Canada's price fixing regulations and King said he thought they represented the right step.

"They are being very well received," he said, "especially by housewives who saw prices of foodstuffs spiraling after the last war."

JAPS READY TO TAKE RISKS TO GET NEEDED OIL SUPPLIES

Tokyo, Nov. 1.—(AP)—If Japan is no longer able to import oil by "ordinary means," an editorial in the newspaper Nichi Nichi declared today, she will have to get it "by extraordinary means, even if it should prove dangerous."

As the nation pulled in more notches in its belt to meet new rises in wartime taxes, the newspaper argued that modern nations could not survive without oil and that Japan's insistence on getting it, therefore, was merely a legitimate act of self-defense.

Nichi Nichi noted specifically that Japan's oil sources in the United States and the Netherlands East Indies had been cut off and asserted the United States never would be able to force Japan to her knees by economic means.

"If the United States means to avoid warfare in the Pacific and maintain her supply of rubber, tin and so forth from Malaya and the East Indies, on which American industry depends, the newspaper commented, "now is the time for the United States to give serious consideration to Japan's determination."

The War Today!

(This daily feature, conducted by Dewitt MacKenzie, is written today by Fred Vanderschmidt.)

From the standpoint of a newspaperman the big gap in the big story of this last month is the absence of readable and colorful details from the scene or from somewhere near the scene of the attacks on United States warships and merchantmen in the new Atlantic graveyard west of Iceland.

As has been pointed out in news stories this week, the multiple censorship which bear upon dispatches from Iceland form the neck. Outbound news must first tightest kind of a news bottle through the military censors of both British and American occupying forces and then to London, where, in the past, it has been tossed about between British ministry of information and United States embassy before its release for transmission to the United States. In the case of dispatches on the arrival of U. S. soldiers in Iceland, they were filed from Reykjavik by Drew Middleton of the Associated Press on September 17, but were not finally cleared to America until Oct. 1. The same processes operate on the cases of torpedoed destroyers and supply ships.

No purpose will be accomplished here in telling what present and previous foreign correspondents think of censorship, and most of it would be unprintable, anyway. But some memories of the battles of the scissors in the first two years of this war are worth re-telling.

From the start the European governments, in general, have insisted that they censored news stories primarily to protect military secrecy and security. No American correspondent could quarrel with that basis. Military secrets are superbly guarded at the source and no correspondent wanted to send news which would jeopardize the lives of fighting men.

In practice, however, "military secrecy" and "security" have been stretched to cover both matters of domestic and foreign policy, to hide blunders, to mask inference yesterday that the sinking would not change the United States policy and, in reply to a question, said he saw no possibility that diplomatic relations with Germany would be broken over this or other recent attacks.) There was no confirmation of the Reuben James sinking here, but one source commented: "When a man walks on a railroad track during the night, he must not be surprised if an expression train hits him."

Heavy Loss of Life Feared In Sinking of United States Destroyer in Atlantic Battle

Authorities Believe Additional Survivors Might Have Been Picked Up By Other Elements of Convoy

BULLETIN

Berlin, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A German government statement today charged the United States with aggression and said the United States destroyers Greer and Kearny had attacked German naval vessels.

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Heavy loss of life in the torpedo sinking of the U. S. destroyer Reuben James was feared today even after the navy announced that 44 enlisted men had been rescued.

That left some 76 members of the ship's company unaccounted for, since about 120 officers and men formed the normal complement of the vessel which was sunk Thursday night on convoy duty west of Iceland.

Taking as hopeful a view as was possible under the circumstances, naval authorities here speculated that some additional survivors might have been picked up by other elements of the convoy. If so, it might be several days before a complete check could be obtained of the entire personnel, because ships in combat zones use their radios only for the most urgent communications.

Riverboat Strike Is New Threat to Steel Output for Defense

Work Goes Ahead Today At Aircraft Plant; Soldiers on Guard

By The Associated Press

A further threat to production of vital defense metal by the United States Steel corporation developed today with a riverboat strike which A.F.L. spokesmen said would halt the waterborne movement of coal and coke to the Pittsburgh area.

The federation's master, mates and pilots organization struck at midnight to enforce demands for undisclosed wage increases. While only 50 boatmen were immediately involved, a coal carrying barge hauls 1,000 tons of fuel compared with 50 tons carried by a railroad car.

The plants affected would be those of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company, subsidiary of big U. S. Steel.

The parent firm now is awaiting a national defense mediation board decision, expected next week, on the controversial question of a union ship in the captive (steel company operated) coal mines. The C.I.O. United Mine Workers Union demands that all 53,000

Senator Green Asks For Freedom of Seas

Says Appeasement Of Hitler Has Failed; Debate 6th Day

Washington, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Senator Green (D-RI) called on the senate today to grant American merchant ships the freedom of the seas and said that the present neutrality act was one of "appeasement toward Hitler" which had proved futile.

Scarcely 24 hours earlier, the navy had announced the sinking of the destroyer Reuben James, on convoy duty west of Iceland. A supplementary announcement last night said 44 of the ship's company had been rescued.

Green, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, was the first scheduled speaker as the senate entered its sixth day of debate on the administration bill knocking out the present neutrality law provisions forbidding the arming of merchant ships and preventing them from entering belligerent ports or combat areas.

"Restores Rights" The proposed amendment to the neutrality act simply restores the rights which we have always

NAZIS SAY FDR IS SUFFERING FROM UPSET POLITICAL STOMACH

Berlin, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Authorized German sources, commenting on President Roosevelt's attitude toward the sinking of the destroyer Reuben James, said today, that the President was "suffering from an upset political stomach."

"It is noteworthy how cautious he has become," they said, "Apparently he has the feeling that he bit off more in recent days than he could digest."

Another drop was registered in mental class rejections, including illiteracy and criminality, which fell to 3.76 per cent of those examined from the 5.26 per cent in September. This remained as the leading cause for rejections. It has led all other causes since March,

Two motor whaleboats, at least six life rafts and ample life preservers were carried aboard the Reuben James, lending some hope to the anxious families of men known to have been aboard her. Sixty navy wives clustered around newspaper and telegraph offices at Portland, Me., awaiting additional information.

The latest official word was this, released by the Navy last night: "The Navy department has received a report that 44 members of the crew of the U. S. S. Reuben James have been rescued. The survivors who have been accounted for are all enlisted men."

"The navy department has no further information at this time, but additional details will be released when received."

Officers Aboard The navy made public the names of the seven officers who were aboard the destroyer, Lieutenant Commander Heywood L. Edwards, 35, of San Saba, Texas, was in command. The others were Lieutenant Benjamin Ghetzler, 34, Annapolis, Md.; Lieutenants (junior grade) Dewey G. Johnston, 31, El Cajon, Calif.; John J. Daub, Saltsburg, Pa.; and James M. Belden, 30, Syracuse, N. Y.; and Ensigns Craig Spowers, 24, East Orange, N. J., and Howard W. Wade, 22, Glen Ridge, N. J.

Draft Rejections For October Lower

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Rejections at the draft induction station here dropped to 19.6 per cent in October from the all-time high of 22 per cent which was registered in September, draft officials said today.

All men examined at the induction station previously had been passed as physically fit by local draft board doctors.

Main factor in the percentage decline was a decrease in the number rejected because of lung trouble to 1.37 per cent of the total examined in October from the 4.62 per cent in September. Prior to the taking of chest X-rays of all draftees, which started Aug. 1, only 21 of one per cent were rejected for lung defects.

Maj. E. Mann Hartlett, state draft medical director, said the October drop was due in part to start of a system of chest X-raying on all men examined by some of the local boards.

Another drop was registered in mental class rejections, including illiteracy and criminality, which fell to 3.76 per cent of those examined from the 5.26 per cent in September. This remained as the leading cause for rejections. It has led all other causes since March,

Building Improvements

SMALL HOMES • STORES

APARTMENTS

MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN, A.I.A.

Laundry May Be A Pleasant Place

In every house there is a utility room or a basement. Some home owners desire a basement and if the laundry is to be placed in the basement, there is no reason why it need be dark and gloomy as was the case in most of the older homes. Basement walls and ceiling may be finished with wall board and painted a light color. There need be no dampness nor chilliness in the basement if there are enough windows to provide cross ventilation and light. It is best to have the basement partly above the surrounding grade and the heads of the windows should never be below the grade.

Good lighting is important and when wiring your house, be sure that enough electric light outlets including plug outlets, are placed in the basement. There should be a light over the tubs, near the heating plant, and wherever else work is to be done. It is best to place the base plugs about three feet above the floor because of dampness and moisture that might get into these convenience outlets.

The laundry tubs should be placed under windows and there should be a floor drain close by so that the water from the tubs and washing machine can be emptied into the floor drain.

Room should be provided for a long table for sorting clothes and for other uses that will be needed in the laundry.

Some women like to have two or three built-in bins near the laundry tubs in which the soiled clothes may be sorted previous to the washing. Provide for an ironing board or mangle, and for a drier or clothes racks that can be raised to the ceiling which would be out of the way when not in use.

INSULATE FLOOR

You can insulate the floor where there is no basement by placing on the under side of the floor a blanket type of insulation with a waterproof covering. This can be placed between the joists or if there is enough work space beneath the floor, rigid sheets of insulation may be nailed on the under edge of the joists.

If neither one of these procedures can be carried out because of lack of space under the floor joists, then rigid sheets of insulating board should be nailed on top of the old floor and a new floor laid over them.

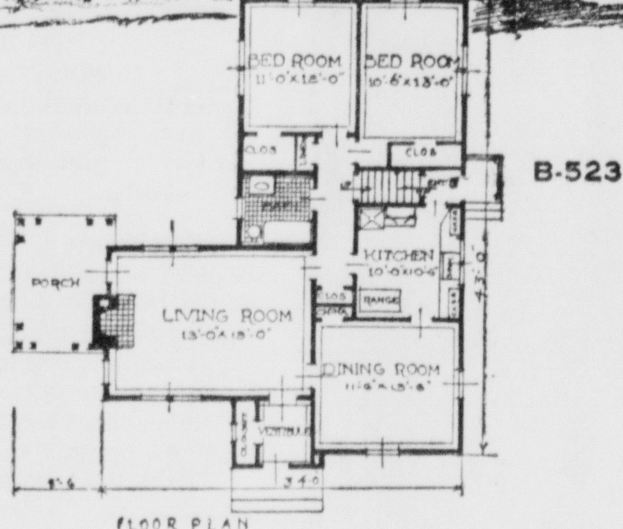

YOUR INCOME AND YOUR HOME

Where the income of the home owner is around $100 to $125 a month, the cost of his home should not exceed two and one-half times his annual income. If an FHA loan is to be secured, the Federal Housing Administration will approve a loan up to $2,500 requiring a 5% participation in cash or land, which would be not less than $125.

PLANNING ECONOMY

Economy in planning requires the elimination of waste space particularly hall areas. If rooms can be planned for a dual purpose, it is an economy; as for instance, one end of the living room being used for dining or an alcove off the living room being used for a dining room or a study.

Plenty of Room

Here is a small house all on one floor designed by Robt. Stevenson, Architect. The floor plans shows the bedrooms well to the rear of the plan with splendid closet space. Note that the kitchen is located in the center of the house, an arrangement that many women will approve of.

AUTOMATIC HEAT

Automatic heat for the house of today may be one of several types. Automatic heat means just what it says...it is automatic in operation and requires the least amount of time by the home owner to operate successfully.

Automatic heat may be installed in any type of heating plant. That is, a furnace which provides hot air to the various rooms, a steam heating, or a hot water heating plant all may have stoker fed devices, or may be oil or gas fired complete with automatic devices.

Stokers may be bin fed, whereby the coal is fed directly into the fire pot from a bin which holds the coal, or may be a hopper type of stoker which also feeds the coal into the firepot but which requires that the stoker be filled by hand. Stokers burn a cheaper quality of coal and offer an even heat and little trouble for the home owner. They will maintain a fire in the heating plant over several days' period except in the most extreme weather. Of course the bin fed type is capable of maintaining heat for a much longer period.

Oil and gas units are now built directly into the heating plants and make a wonderful complete and efficient unit. They too have all the required automatic devices to make them really automatic.

All three types, stoker, oil and gas have automatic devices that control the amount of fuel used in the heating plant as required by the temperature needed in the house. Thermostats located on the first floor of the house control these heating devices which are electrically operated and give the home owner great comfort and more leisure.

There are many types of safety automatic devices for heating plants of today that make the plants more efficient and easier to operate. Your heating contractor should be able to explain these devices to you and it will be well to get the simplest types and not the cheapest equipment.

MOSS AIDS PLANTS' GROWTH

If your neighbor has better luck with his garden than you have, it may be he has discovered the advantages of gardening with peat moss. Peat moss is a perfect soil conditioner and mulch. It makes anything grow better. It allows the plants to breathe, makes the earth they grow in more porous and absorbent, discourages weeds and cuts down the water bill as well as labor.

Peat moss should be free of excessive dust, dirt and fibre. Its live, undecayed cell structure guarantees great absorbency and longer useful life.

KITCHEN MADE GLAY

A kitchen which was gloomy in outlook has been made cheerful with gay decoration. Walls and ceiling were painted a putty-color enamel and were divided by a wide molding of lacquer red. The same color is repeated at the tops of the cabinets and sink. The canister set and enamel ware are a matching red, as are the tapes of the Venetian blinds. The linoleum is putty color the pattern with red and black included in the design.

REFINISH FLOORS

If your floors need refinishing and have been stained a dark color, it will be necessary to have them scraped or sanded and the present finish taken off with varnish remover before they are refinished. After the varnish has been thoroughly removed, finish the floors with a white paste filler and a coat of shellac, wax or varnish.

ARCHES

It is easy now to make a perfect arch between rooms by installing a metal lath and metal corner bead arch that comes already to install before the plastering is done. The arch is then plastered and the arch blends perfectly with the wall.

Two Story House More Economical

It has been proven all over the United States that the average family of three persons require a five room house. In order to plan a home one must start with these points providing that is the number of persons in your family, and the house should be designed for every day living with all conveniences and equipment that you can afford to include.

The average five room house includes a living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. In some cases home owners do not require a dining room in which case a breakfast nook is added near the kitchen and service may be had to a dining table in the living room. Possibly another small bedroom may be added.

The one story five-room house is more costly to build than a five-room two story square house with bedrooms on the second floor. This is due to the fact that in a one story house there is more roof, more basement walls and more basement floor.

Wasteful halls should be eliminated from the small house and the hall space should be used in the rooms. A two story square house will have less waste hall way than a one story house of the same number of rooms which is spread over more floor area.

Closets are important and in the main bedroom thereafter. There should be a coat closet, a linen closet and if possible a cedar chest closet.

Allow plenty of space for furniture in your rooms and provide ample windows for light and ventilation which should be placed to catch the prevailing breeze.

HEAT WASTE

How much heat does your heating system waste? Stand near the exposed heating pipes in the basement and feel to see if heat is escaping. Sometimes that heat is useful as in laundries or basement recreation rooms, otherwise unheated, but if you do not have this use for the heat, it is sheer waste and every bit of heat your boilers produce, whether used or not, costs fuel dollars.

The insulation of all heating pipes except where they are actually required is a simple matter and a long run economy.

PAINT COLORS ANCIENT PRODUCT

Paint colors, as we are familiar with them in paint today, are said to have been created near the beginning of the 15th century. It is not known just when they were adapted to house painting. The Romans had hitherto used a type of wax, made fluid over fire, in paint making, but the details of its manufacture have been lost.

CRAYON COLORS FOR ROOM

The bright, clear colors of school crayons are copied in the decoration of a dining room, furnished with wheat-color peasant furniture. The wall is a gay yellow bound by blue ceiling molding and baseboard; the carpet, a brisk red and blue design. An open cabinet displays bright pottery and glassware.

REPAIR APPROACHES

Business buildings, apartments and rooming houses with unattractive approaches labor under a heavy handicap in their bid for patronage. In most cases comparatively simple alterations would remedy matters. The increase in customers would speedily repay the loan needed for this renovation.

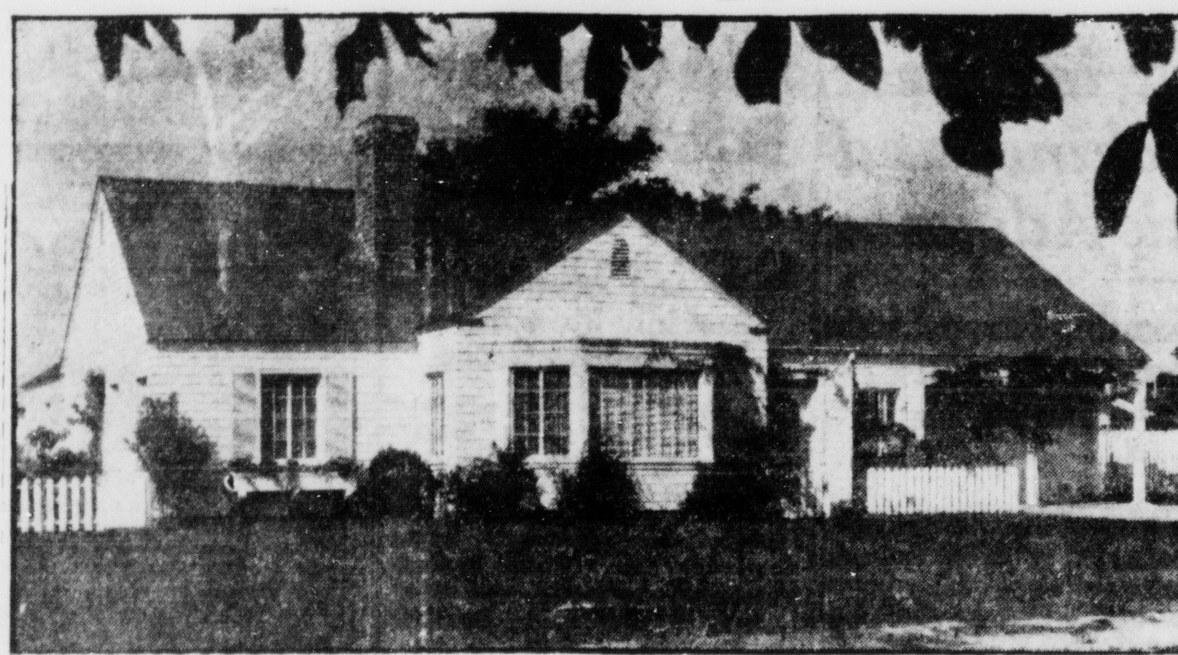

DOOR TO GARAGE

The house that has an attached garage should have a door connecting same to the house. A closet near this door is a great convenience, where motoring coats, robes and golf bags may be placed for convenience and safety.

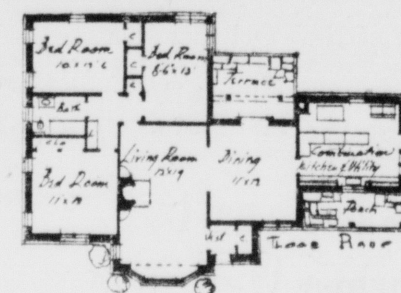

REFRIGERATOR WIRING

If the electric refrigerator is put on a separate circuit it will do away with light flickers caused by going on and off of the motor.

SPACIOUS PLAN

Here is a great three bedroom house with the bedroom wing entirely separated from the rest of the house, a requirement of many home-owners. The living room and dining room are nicely planned for convenient use with a terrace off the dining room. One of the unique things of this plan is the combined kitchen and utility room with the range, refrigerator and counter separating the kitchen from the utility room but not extending to the ceiling.

ATTIC STAIRS

It would seem that there is always a lot of room in the attic if a gable or hipped roof is used on the house. This room certainly should be used but it is difficult sometimes to find a place for a staircase to the attic stairs. Folding stairs that are inexpensive, entirely practical, make the space in the attic available at all times without taking up any room anywhere. They simply disappear into the ceiling when they are not in use. They can be installed in almost any house, whether new or old.

BURGLAR PROTECTION

For safety against burglars, low power night lights in the hall and at several points outside the house which may operate on a separate circuit that can be quickly snapped on from the owner's bedside are a great precaution. Burglars dread light.

CLOSETS

Closets may be lined with cedar planks and the plastering which would ordinarily be used in the closet might be omitted. Such a closet is not expensive to construct and will fill that long-felt want for a cedar closet.

Missouri's 1940 population was 3,775,737, as compared to 3,629,367 in 1930.

Home Ownership Is Vital to Average Man

The owning of a home is one of the most important things that the average man can invest in. Not only does it give him the satisfaction of having a home of his own and a place to rear his family, but it is a good investment in dollars and cents.

Every person has a particular type of home he may like. The architecture or the design appeals to him, or there may be some historical significance in connection with the design that he likes.

In owning your home it is wise to consider the neighborhood and its proximity to church, schools, stores and other conveniences. It is desirable to consider its location from the standpoint of street car or other means of transportation to the larger center of the town.

Owning a home enhances one's position in the business and social world. It is a sound investment and is as desirable for the younger people as for the older folks.

KEEP FURNACE CLEAN

A furnace and the pipes that lead from it should be cleaned every year. Ofttimes dirt and soot will rise through these pipes and cause the walls and ceilings in the rooms to be soiled. One of the causes of this condition is that the cement in the joints between the sections of the cast iron furnace have become broken. This makes an opening in the fire box by which the smoke and soot may escape into the ducts that serve the registers. The cement in the furnace fire pot joints are not permanent. They may last five years.

TO APPLY BRONZE PAINT

To apply gold bronze to exterior metal surfaces, first prepare the surface by painting with a metal primer. Mix the bronze powders with a special bronzing liquid or with a mixture of one part benzine to two parts of spar varnish and apply with a brush as when applying regular paint.

—Thomas Jefferson:

"I have ever deemed it fundamental for the United States never to take an active part in the quarrels of Europe. Their political interests are entirely distinct from ours. Their mutual jealousies, their balance of power, their complicated alliances, their forms and principles of government, are all foreign to us. They are nations of eternal wars. All of their energies are expended in the destruction of the labor, property, and lives of their people."—To James Monroe, June 11, 1823.

Overhead Doors Improve Garage

Like everything else, garages have improved in both design and equipment as the years pass.

The new overhead door has ironed out one of the most irritating features of garage construction. This door which is pulled down from its suspended position horizontal with the garage floor, not only eliminates balky and sticking doors but conserves valuable garage space.

The doors are made of the best material and are so constructed that only a slight tug or lift on the handle moves them up or down, even a child can work them. They are built and equipped to withstand any kind of weather and the hardware used on them is also protected from the elements.

These doors feature a positive and safe action. They also feature an extra strong door lock, yet are so constructed that the lock and handle itself are the only hardware exposed.

Their easy glide, ready action and practical use have already put them on the "must" list of every garage builder. Their reasonable cost eliminates any excuse against not fitting your garage with one. Have an overhead door put on your garage and notice the difference.

Be Prepared For Winter

Keep out of the draft—save fuel bills and be comfortable this winter by installing storm sash on all your doors and windows now. Don't worry about the cost—enjoy the added comforts for just a few dollars a month.

New Homes to Shelter Cars

With winter in the offing, many Dixon property owners are building shelter for their cars. They know that it is best to play safe and have adequate shelter during winter storms.

Home Lumber Company has helped construct many garages in the past and are now furnishing plans and materials for many garages now under construction.

Among the local people who are now building garages are Louis Turner, William Boehme, W. H. Austin, Ben Rolph and Gus Filloppone. Mr. Boehme and Mr. Austin are constructing two-car garages.

Come in and inspect our plans for a modern, up-to-date garage of any size. These plans have been prepared by experts and all are designed to be erected at minimum expense to the builder.

These garages also are planned to use the new type overhanging door which is efficient in use and space economy.

Company Gives Many Services

When you buy building materials from the Home Lumber Company your bill is based only upon the materials in your order, but you also receive many extra services at no cost.

To mention only a few of them we can't omit our complete set of plans for almost any type of building that you might wish to construct. We are always glad to go over any plan that you may have. It is possible that we may have suggestions that will help you not only in construction, but also in cost.

When you come to see us our main thought is to please you and have you join the large number of satisfied Home Lumber Co. customers.

Wa-Tan-Yans Will Dedicate Hospital Gift on Thursday

Thursday evening will see Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans dedicating their gift to Katherine Shaw Bettea hospital—furnishings for a five-bed ward in the new addition. Chapters from Rockford, Freeport, Clinton, Mt. Carroll, Morrison, Savanna, and other surrounding cities have been invited to attend the meeting, which is the local chapter's annual Guest Night.

A turkey dinner at 7 o'clock at the Hotel Nachusa is to be followed by a dedicatory ceremony conducted by Mrs. Harry D. Miller and Miss Lucile Stauffer, and a lecture by Mrs. Doris Elgie of Sterling, recently of England.

Mrs. James M. Miley is general chairman for the event. Her committees include: Dinner and tickets, Mrs. Roy Wilhelm, chairman, Mrs. Miller, Miss Frances Lally, and Miss Elsie Spangler; program and programs, Miss Lucile Stauffer, chairman, Mrs. Harry Beard, Mrs. John Mills, and Mrs. Helen Shickley; invitations, Miss Helen Nagel, chairman, Miss Alice Meppen, and Miss Milla Wolk; decorations, Mrs. M. E. Potter, chairman, Mrs. Carl Haack, and the Misses Elizabeth Durkes, Gertrude Wilhelm, Lois Stumeling, Arvilla Smith, and Hazel Hecker.

Mrs. Miley, Miss Margaret Minnihan, and Mrs. Beard composed the November hostess committee.

Two Artists From Rock River Valley Win Place in Show

A sculpture by Mrs. E. Melville Hayes of this city and an oil painting by Holger Jensen of the Grand Detour artist colony have been accepted by the jury of judges for the sixteenth annual exhibition of the All-Illinois Society of Fine Arts, which opens a week from today in the Stevens Hotel gallery on Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Hayes' sculpture is "Portrait of Bonnie," a life-size bust of her daughter, Melbina. The portrait was cast in plaster, and resembles a rose pink granite.

"On the Road to Elsinore" is the title of the large canvas submitted by Mr. Jensen. The scene was sketched in California.

The Jensens and Mrs. Hayes expect to go to Chicago next Saturday to attend a dinner for participating artists, to be followed by a reception and the formal opening of the show. The program is to include an operetta by students of Blanche Slocum, protégée of Mary Garden. Bronze medals will be awarded to winners in the show, the night of the reception.

LOOK AHEAD to 1942

One thing is certain. There are going to be more taxes and higher taxes for everyone.

Wouldn't it be smart to prepare for them now in order to ease this burden when March 15, 1942 rolls around?

Here's our suggestion. Save something every month in a special fund for next year's income tax. You still have plenty of time and we'll help you get started.

Chicago Opera Is to Open Season on Saturday, Nov. 8

Chicago Opera goes into its 31st season on Saturday evening, Nov. 8, under the operatic management of Fortune Gallo, general director, and Giovanni Martinelli, artistic director.

Backed by the same board of governors and board of trustees that saw the company through its 30th anniversary season last year, Chicago Opera will present five weeks of opera performances on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, and Saturday afternoons from Nov. 10 to Dec. 13.

An imposing array of operatic stars has been signed to take part in the 1941 season, including many well-known favorites and six outstanding new singers never before heard in Chicago in opera. The repertoire will be chosen from 24 standard opera works, with the first week featuring two important revivals, Verdi's "Masked Ball", for the pre-season opening on Nov. 8, and "The Daughter of the Regiment", on Saturday night, Nov. 15.

Martinelli will take the leading tenor role on opening night opposite Elisabeth Rethberg, noted soprano of the Metropolitan. John Charles Thomas will have the baritone assignment, with Anna Kaskas, Josephine Antoine, Virgilio Lazzari and Roberto Silva completing the cast.

Lily Pons will be seen in the role of Marie in "The Daughter of the Regiment." The first performance of the regular subscription series, Monday night, Nov. 10, will bring Gladys Swarthout to the stage in the title role of Bizet's "Carmen", and Richard Bonelli as Escamillo.

CHEER LEADERS

Shirley Welch and Pauline Bay are Dixon high school's new cheerleaders, having been selected for the staff from a large group of girls. Charlene Enichen and Donna Hanneken complete the staff, whose members are soon to appear in purple and white satin uniforms.

Richard Crooks and Helen Jepson will be heard in Gounod's "Faust" on Nov. 12; Miss Jepson, and Mr. Thomas will appear in Verdi's "La Traviata" the Nov. 14th performance; and Rossini's "Barber of Seville" is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Nov. 15, with Bidu Sayao, Brazilian soprano, making her Chicago operatic debut as Rosina. Tito Schipa is to sing Count Almaviva, with Carlo Morelli as Figaro, the barber.

HOLD PARTY AT STONY POINT

Upper grade students of the Stony Point school entertained the primary room with a Halloween party in the school basement yesterday afternoon. About 43 pupils enjoyed the masquerade event, with games and awarding of prizes followed by refreshments. The basement was colorfully decorated for the occasion.

Shower Gifts Are Presented to Mrs. Clefford Moran

A telephone message from Elaine Moerschbaecher and Patty Jean Curran, who are attending Mundelein college in Chicago, added to the evening's pleasure, when the Misses Donna Furlong and Mary Janet McKenney entertained last evening at the Furlong home with a variety shower, complimenting Mrs. Clefford Moran, the former Mary Louise Poole.

Fern Durham received a box of candy for the most artistic effort in drawing a cartoon described by the hostesses. Card games were pastime for the remainder of the evening.

The refreshment table was in pink and white, and was placed near the hearth fire. A three-tier wedding cake, topped with a tiny bride and groom, was served with the dessert course. Afterward, the guests watched Mrs. Moran unwrap her shower gifts.

Guests were Mrs. John Mitchell, and the Misses Patty Lou Gannon, Sue Bryant, Fern Durham, Garnet Doran, Cheryl Stetson, Pauline Reilly, and Mrs. Moran.

A Thought For Today

Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest; in sowing time and in harvest thou shalt rest.—Exodus 34:21.

Thou are my single day, God lends to heaven what were all earth else, with a feel of heaven.—Browning.

Defense Strikes Must End

We have seen in America—in a time of national emergency—a labor leader refusing a plea of the President to refrain from a strike that would cripple defense production.

With bright lights in his office beating down on him and with all the sowl of a tragedian, John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, strode before assembled reporters in Washington and announced a sorry chapter in union labor's story. For a second time he refused to heed the President.

The issue was simple. The sole question was whether the great steel companies, operating so-called captive mines, would grant Lewis' organization a closed shop. Captive mines are those operated solely to produce coal for the steel companies that own them. According to Lewis' own statement, practically all the men working in those mines belong to his union. To that extent he already had a closed shop. But he insisted upon a written agreement to that effect. To get it Lewis was ready to jeopardize the nation's defense program. He called a strike as he had threatened.

It is time to say to this man that he is hitting not only a President he dislikes, but at the whole American people. He and other labor leaders like him are endangering the cause of union labor. They are putting in jeopardy the gains they have won. They are estranging their friends and giving valuable arguments to their enemies who have never believed in concessions to organized labor.

They do not realize how weary the average American is of the almost daily headlines: "Strike in Coal Mines" . . . "Strike in Airplane Factory" . . . "Strike in Shipyards."

In a time when he is being asked to pay the heaviest taxes in the country's history, when he sees boys taken from their jobs to make good soldiers, the average American is becoming sick of what he sees in the field of industry. It is a picture that reminds him too much of what went on in a France that how lies prostrate under Hitler's heel.

What this nation would like to see and what it is going to demand and what it is going to get is:

No strikes and no lockouts that affect defense during America's national emergency.

Loyal New Zealand

To the ordinary American, the British dominion of New Zealand, 1200 miles to the southeast of far-away Australia, almost seems as if it were on another planet. Seldom does news come from this state, way down in the vast expanse of the Pacific.

It has only 1,640,901 people living in an area equal to that of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey combined. But it has enrolled almost one-fifth of its population in defense service. There are 80,000 in the armed services, including army, navy and air forces at home and abroad, 138,000 in other home military defense units and 95,000 in civil defense organizations.

To get the measure of this effort, apply the percentage to the United States. It would mean America had enrolled 26,000,000!

Comparatively small New Zealand has set a record for loyalty to a cause. It has fully realized the dangers to itself resulting from the robber union of Germany, Italy and Japan.

Germany's Invasion of America

No German soldiers have planted their feet on American soil. But there has been a genuine invasion of America. It has taken the form of an invasion of the perfectly good American language. It is evident every day in newspapers and magazines and in public speeches. There stand the Germans: "panzer," "luftwaffe," "blitzkrieg." There is not a bit of sense in it. "Panzer" is no whit better than "tank" or "armored car." "Luftwaffe" does not mean more than "air arm" or "air force." "Blitzkrieg" conveys no more than "lightning war."

There is no more excuse for it than for French names of food on American restaurant menus.

George, Pass the Shears!

Six thousand hairdressers can't be wrong. And 6,000 of them in convention assembled recently in New York passed a decree which means that milady will have to see the beauty parlor she patronizes strewn with long clippings from her cherished tresses.

She may have taken months to let her hair grow to the right length. She may have spent many simoleons to have an expert give her just the right long hair-do covering her ears. But now the inexorable 6,000 have given this form of hair dressing its death warrant.

They have heaped scorn upon this style. It is "Hollywood shrunken." It is "like wet spaniel ears." It gives a woman a "drippy look." No woman could brave those epithets.

The locks will have to go.

America's Real Problem

There are Americans who think the World War is a thing that confronts this country with many serious, even tragic problems. They ponder anxiously over the matter of national defense. They worry over the chances of this country becoming involved in a shooting war. They foresee all kinds of upsets in domestic economy. But they are wasting their time and brain power. Really the greatest crisis that confronts Americans is what hats men will wear in the evening. Says one, twaddler.

"The trouble with most outfits you see in this city lies with the hats. A surprising number of otherwise distinguished-looking men wear slouch hats or derbies. And too many wear top hats that don't suit them."

"Gosh," said the woodcock and away he flew.

Deaths

Local—

MRS. STEPHEN AUSTIN

Mrs. Stephen Austin, nee Bessie Siler, passed away at 1 o'clock this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Moll, 409 East Everett street. She was born in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Jan. 6, 1861 and for more than two years had been in failing health, much of this time being confined to her bed.

Her husband preceded her in death several years ago. Surviving are a son, Ewald and her daughter, Mrs. Moll, four grandchildren, Robert and Jane Austin and Graydon and Bradley Moll.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Jones funeral home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Austin's husband, the late Stephen Austin was a member of the dry goods firm of Austin & Austin, which a number of years ago occupied the present location of the Ford Hopkins drug store on First street and Hennepin avenue. She was a member of the First Baptist church, a musician of rare ability and a beautiful character.

HARRY E. MYERS

Harry E. Myers, a native of Grand Detour and Dixon, passed away after a short illness Friday evening, in Chicago where he had made his home for many years. Mr. Myers was a retired advertising executive. He had many friends in Dixon and frequently visited here.

Funeral services will be held at The Osgood Funeral Chapel, 523 Lake street, Oak Park, Monday morning.

Personals

Dr. Victoria A. Auriene left this morning for Des Moines, Ia. where she will manage and assist in a two-day surgical congress at the Hotel Saviour.

Sergt. Harold F. Higby has arrived from Camp Forrest, Tennessee, to spend a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Higby.

Mrs. George Sprankle returned to Chicago today, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Penny, who plans to make her home with her daughter.

Mrs. George Stahmer of Maywood, Mrs. Theodore Roes, and Mrs. George Rochman of St. Louis are spending a week with Mrs. Roy Raffenberg.

Wives of Hostile Envoys Get "Tangled" at Party

Ankara, Turkey, Nov. 1.—(AP)

—The ballroom of the Palas hotel was jammed for the annual reception of the Turkish people's party, and diplomats from all nations—accompanied by their wives—were crowded shoulder to shoulder.

That is how a pin on the dress of Mrs. Michael O'Donnel, wife of the British naval attaché, caught in the dress of Frau Von Pappen, the wife of the German ambassador, locking them helplessly back to back.

Aides of both embassies fluttered helplessly and the pair stared idly in opposite directions until a Turkish protocol officer took charge.

Once disengaged the ladies marched off without a backward glance.

Church Societies

Aid Society—Members of the St. James Aid society will meet all day Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. G. Topper. There will be an auction.

Women's Association—Members of the Presbyterian Women's Association will meet at the church at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

BUCKWHEAT CROP

The 1939 buckwheat crop of the United States was the smallest in years—5,767,000 bushels, compared with a 10-year average of nearly 8,000,000 bushels.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Oct. 31.—The army maneuvers showed a dismal lack of coordination between the air and infantry—primary essential of modern war. The boys did not even have the beginnings of efficiency. Army was so excited it threw intensified efforts into three coordination training centers (Forts Benning and Knox and Bowman field) just getting under way.

Lack of practice with the best equipped aircraft is given as the reason for the failure. We produced 1900 planes in September of which 900 were trainers lacking the best ground communication facilities. Of the 1000 top notchers, most went to Britain.

Rumors are around that the aim of our bombers was just as bad in maneuvers but the generals are not worried about this phase. The bombers had to throw sacks of flour over the side in training with troops. They could not use flour in their bomb racks. But at Barksdale field, Alabama, September 22nd, they staged an amazing demonstration with live projectiles. From 18,000 feet they unloaded upon old tanks assembled in an area about the size of two football fields, showing no larger than pinpoints through the bombights. Everything in the field was completely demolished.

War officials are still trying to streamline the elephantine ordnance division. General Wesson, in charge, stomped in with orders that every contract must be let within twenty-four hours after the bids are accepted. Previously the bids have been allowed to loiter for weeks.

Hitler lighted the stove under Turkey by inviting those two Turkish generals up to the Russian front to see how he does it. Wisps of official information have drifted back suggesting the nazi leader might thrust down through Turkey to the near-east oil fields this winter. A contrary suggestion is that the Turks might open operations against their ancient enemies, the Bulgarians (no doubt reflecting what the allies would like to see the Turks do.)

Hitler is desperately in need of access through the Dardanelles for his German submarines. He cannot capitalize on his seizure of the Don and Donets industrial bases in redland until he destroys the Black sea Russian naval forces and opens an easy way for water transportation back home.

This is likely to be the next step, attempted with diplomatic pressure, probably not with arms.

A more disturbing nazi threat to go into Spain has been heard by the official ear. A special task force of the U. S. army and marines has been prepared to seize the Spanish and Portuguese islands in that case. The force is composed of a division of the marines and the first division of the army (which has no draftees and could go outside the Western Hemisphere). In command is the Marine Corps General Holland Smith. A second similar task force is being prepared in full secrecy.

The Spanish government is noticeably shaky. Food shortage is causing economic chaos. About 4000 cases of typhus have developed among the civil population although these have not been publicly reported as yet.

Stalin has been mustering what strength he can for two final desperate counter-drives. One is aimed to strike the German flank from the north between Leningrad and Moscow. The other was intended to drive a wedge into the exposed bulging German flank in the Ukraine.

Both the state and the war departments privately hold the highest expectations that the Reds will be able to maintain armed opposition indefinitely.

No wonder you did not get any real idea of what happened to the Kearney until two weeks after it happened. The admirals have passed the word around among themselves to guard against giving information to their own publicity officers. Their own official news publicists are treated as if they were spies.

Over the German grapevine comes information that Hitler has avoided bombing London for three months because he finds it too expensive. The loss of ten or fifteen bombers in big raids was not worth the minor military destruction accomplished. London sources offer the same excuse for not bombing Berlin. Both forcefully deny a bombing truce exists.

Five thousand silk worms must eat 125 pounds of mulberry leaves to make enough silk for one kimono.

EXPECT 46,500 WILL SEE BEARS PLAY PACKERS

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—All National Pro League football teams are scheduled to work their regular Sunday shifts tomorrow, but the bulk of the business goes to the Green Bay Packers, who face the titanic task of caging the Champion-Chicago Bears.

A crowd of 46,500 fans, the greatest throng ever to see a pro game in the Midwest, has brought all the seats at Wrigley field in Chicago for this 46th renewal of the oldest rivalry in the league.

The New York Giants, still out in front in the eastern division in spite of last Sunday's upset by Brooklyn, take on the invading Chicago Cardinals at the Polo Grounds.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Philadelphia Eagles tangle in an all-eastern fuss at Ebbets field in Brooklyn. Pittsburgh's lowly steelers, the only winless team in the league, move into the nation's capital to battle the Washington Redskins. And the Detroit Lions collide with the Rams at Cleveland.

No Wonder It's a Sell Out
It's no wonder that the Packers-Bear game is a sellout. The Bears are the only unbeaten outfit in the league. They have piled up 209 points while holding five opponents to 52 points.

The Packers have lost only one game out of seven. That defeat came at the hands of the bears in the first meeting of these two teams late in September. But the Packers were ahead at the start of the final period, and only a brilliant rally saved the Bears from defeat.

The fans figure this is the last chance to stop the high-scoring Bears. If Green Bay can't turn the trick, none of the five remaining foes on Chicago's schedule is rated more than an outside chance of keeping the bears from another western title and a spot in the championship playoff against the eastern winner.

A Green Bay victory would push the Bears into second place in the Western division. At the same time, the eastern half of the league also faces the possibility of a new leader.

Top-Grade Goods Move Fast in the Department Stores

New York.—(The Special News Service)—Storm cellar buying has quickened the movement of top-grade merchandise from department stores at key cities in the east and middlewest, trade quarters have reported here.

Better quality furniture, rugs, art objects and decorations, curtains, sheets, towels and women's coats are being bought in volume by people in the $5,000 to $25,000 income class.

"Scores of customers we hadn't seen in months have been coming in and buying on a scale above anything our records show for recent years," said one quality store executive. "Talking with them, we find that those ordinarily wary and shrewd with their money have a feeling that prices are going to be higher, and that many quality items available now may not be in stock later on, as consumer goods production gives way to defense."

Most stores seem to think that the heavy volume of anticipatory sales in the top-grade merchandise brackets is definitely borrowing from future business.

"Christmas looks good, but we're not feeling so happy about March and April when income tax payments will put a brake on retail dollar totals," another executive said.

With the Christmas shopping season promising to be one of the largest in history—the national income is rising steadily towards the rate of $100,000,000,000 annually—interest in gifts is reported the broadest in a dozen years. While the bulk of early buying runs to practical gifts, such as apparel and haberdashery, toy and game volumes may reach new peaks.

A pick-up in sales has been noted in oil and water color paintings, carved wood objects, bookends, finely-bound books, unusual desk sets, glassware and pottery—items which didn't do so well in lean depression years.

WISCONSIN VS. SYRACUSE

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Midwestern football fans were offered their first look at Syracuse's famed "X" formation today as the easterners opposed Wisconsin of the Big Ten.

In the much-publicized formation the Syracuse center faces the backfield and pulls out to lead interference. The Badgers were a slight favorite to whip the invaders.

ILLINOIS VS. MICHIGAN

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Illinois moved into the second half of the grid season today still looking for a major victory, taking on the tough Michigan eleven in the annual homecoming attraction.

The Wolverines, beaten only by Minnesota, were a topheavy favorite to crush the Illini.

By George B. Anderson

"Advertising rates are too high," I heard a merchant say the other day, to which another merchant spoke up, "Is that so? Mine aren't."

But you advertise in the same paper I do," the first retailer protested. "You pay the same rate."

The second merchant shook his head. "The amount the newspaper charges for advertising space is only a small factor in determining your advertising rate," he said. "You and I can easily buy ten column inches of space. We can pay exactly the same price for it. But if my advertisement produces ten customers and yours only produce one, your advertising has cost ten times as much as mine."

"You've probably heard that popular song, 'It's not what you do but the way that you do it.' That's certainly true of advertising. Most newspaper advertising space rates are fair, but not all users of advertising space are capable of using it efficiently."

"It isn't what I pay for advertising space that counts. It's what I put into that space . . . what I say to the people who are exposed to that space . . . that determines whether I got a bargain or a costly article."

"If I have something to sell, something that can benefit the newspaper-reading public, I advertise it. If I tell my story clearly enough and interestingly enough, I'll get customers, lots of them."

If I don't use my advertising space well enough to attract readers, I hardly see how I can blame the newspaper or its advertising rates. Every advertiser determines his own rate, in the final analysis."

FOG HALTS GAME

Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Fog stopped a sunset league football game last night.

Because of the heavy haze, the game between Fullerton and Long Beach Jordan high schools was called at half time. Jordan led 7-0, thanks to Capt. Whitney Anderson's sneak through the fog.

Fullerton still has a chance at victory, though. The teams will play the second half at some later date, when they can have a clear night.

MURDER IN PARADISE

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Suspicion finally points to pretty Jeanie Morris when a third murder is added to the killings that have quieted Paradise Lake again. In the thick of things is Mary O'Connor, who discovered, with her mother, Maudie, the body of Herbert Cord, whom police believe was killed by gangster Stash Veretti. Maudie finds the body of Miss Millie, Jeanie's spinster aunt and second of the victims, and Mary and Jeanie discover that of Liza Holmes, who had been Miss Millie's maid. Many people at Paradise believe Jeanie killed Cord, who had courted her for two summers only to bring Marie Dixon to Chris Gordon's inn this year as his fiancée. And then her aunt, who had violently objected to Jeanie's interest in Cord, Local editor Tod Palmer, who loves Jeanie, furnishes her with an alibi the first time, but she has none for the subsequent murders. Police arrest Jeanie and Maudie, confirming suspicions of Mary and reporter Dennis Flynn that she was withholding information, decides to act.

When Maudie made her dash I had to change into a dress, slap some powder on my nose and then fight with McCool, who didn't relish the idea of being shut up alone.

Yes, it must have been 15 minutes before I was able to start out; then I didn't know where to go. All I knew was that she had determination in the set of her shoulders, and so I felt I must find Denny. He'd know what to do, and the way to find him was to

UNDEFEATED GRID TEAMS HIGHLIGHT SATURDAY'S PLAY

Notre Dame Plays Army This Afternoon; Cats Meet Gophers

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Undaunted, as well as unbeaten and untied, Notre Dame, Army, Texas, Pennsylvania and Minnesota trot out onto the gridirons today to highlight the football season's turn into November.

Of those five stalwarts, only Notre Dame and Army meet each other, but the remaining trio collide with foes of almost that calibre.

Every one of the more than 76,000 seats in the Yankee Stadium was sold three weeks ago for the Cadet-Irish fracas, the twenty-eighth in a row but the first under their present coaches.

In Minneapolis, the mighty Gophers of Minnesota have patched up a lineup for their third game in the Big Ten title series. This time they entertain Northwestern, loser by 14 to 7 to Michigan, which in turn lost to Minnesota last Saturday, 7 to 0.

And deep in the southwest Texas will attempt to hurdle Southern Methodist, the Longhorns' last major obstacle until equally unbeaten and untied Texas A. & M. furnishes the opposition on Thanksgiving Day.

Navy vs. Penn

Also in the east, a surprising Pennsylvania eleven with speed and power to spare has as its guest a Navy team that hasn't been scored upon but has a scoreless draw with Harvard on its record. The Quakers, despite the graduation of Frank Reagan, have a perfect season.

Almost overlooked in the metropolitan hubbub of the Army-Notre Dame get-together is unbeaten and bowl-minded Fordham's engagement with the troublesome Boilermakers of Purdue, and Temple's invasion of Boston College.

Harvard and Princeton open the 1941 version Big Three rivalry, Cornell is at Columbia. Holy Cross goes to Colgate and William & Mary comes north to oppose Dartmouth.

Other crowds will be watching Villanova's attempt to right itself at all-winning Duquesne's expense, Pittsburgh trying to win its first game of the year with Ohio State as the foe, Maryland's efforts against Rutgers and Brown's once-beaten youngsters playing Yale's sophomores.

The Big Ten's other attractions are Michigan against Illinois, and U. S. farmers in 1939 harvested 85,803,000 acres of corn.

ROMANTIC—MY EYE!

Hollywood, Nov. 1.—(AP)—All day long, Director Leigh Jason worked for just the right romantic touch in a love scene by Joan Blondell and John Wayne for "Lady for a Night."

Take after take was discarded. Then Jason sighed with relief, Joan's eyes were softly pleading ... Wayne's voice was low and throbbing. Then ... Joan's bustle creaked!

Iowa entertaining Indiana at the Hawkeye's homecoming and Wisconsin against the "Y" formation as developed by Ossie Solem and his Syracuse charges.

Need a Victory

Stanford needs a victory over Santa Clara to keep the Pacific coast shuffle from becoming a nightmare. Sharing almost the same rating in importance are the Washington State-Oregon tussle and the California-UCLA intrastate affair.

Texas A. & M. still unbeaten despite the graduation of nine regulars from last year's high-minded machine, hopes to steal some of Texas university's thunder by drubbing Arkansas, weak but always tough for the Aggies. Centenary is at Rice.

Texas Christian and Baylor have a Southwestern Conference engagement while in the neighboring Big Six circuit Missouri forgets its responsibilities as leader to entertain Michigan State's homecomers.

Oklahoma plays Kansas while Nebraska is at Kansas State. Iowa State has South Dakota university as its opposition. Top-flight game in the Missouri Valley Circuit is Creighton's visit to Oklahoma A. & M.

Vanderbilt, the pride and joy of everyone south of the Mason-Dixon line with its unblemished exultation, jeopardizes its record against the powerful Green Wave of Tulane. It shares the south interest with Duke's attempt to stay unbeaten in the meeting with Georgia Tech.

Tennessee and Louisiana State, great names of yesteryear, tangle at Baton Rouge and Georgia colleges head on with Auburn. Kentucky is at Alabama.

Intersectional games pit Mississippi against Marquette, and Manhattan, upset conqueror of Villanova last week, against Detroit, spilled last week for the first time by Arkansas.

Sales of chewing gum in the U. S. are estimated to be in excess of $60,000,000 a year.

U. S. farmers in 1939 harvested 85,803,000 acres of corn.

One of the favorite stories told around Hallowe'en time is the yarn about Ichabod Crane who was frightened by his rival who masqueraded as a headless horseman—but, ah, my children, that fantastic legend is mere peanuts compared to Dixon's weird 7 to 0 defeat at the hands of Princeton here last night in the final football game of the season ... an event which had a few headless sheenigans all its own.

It just couldn't be called "heads-up playing" when the second half kickoff ... Princeton went into the end zone—and the Dukes stood and looked at the ball instead of falling on it for six points! There it was—a touchdown—staring them right in the face like a Hallowe'en pumpkin all lighted up and darn apparent.

Rain Plus Mud Equals Fumbles

To begin with: There was the rain and mud, and, of course, the fumbles! There just wasn't much you could do about that, but several times the Dixon Dukes had their chances ... and they muffed 'em. Ichabod would have jumped right out of his long underwear at the frightening headlessness of last night. BUT—"boys will be boys," especially on Hallowe'en when anything can happen.

You have to give the Dukes some credit, though. They slam-banged with real fury at times and drove Princeton back on many occasions. AND when an official gets in your way, you can't block out your opponent very effectively—which is what happened in the case of Princeton's triumphant second period touchdown pass. AND on a dry field Dixon's passes might have driven the Tigers crazy with the style of defense they employed.

Oh, well—it's all over now, and DeKalb has won the North Central conference championship for the year, but if you insist on having the gruesome details, here they are:

Dixon received on the opening kickoff and began the first offensive playing. In a series of downs Gilbert and Quilhot couldn't pick up yardage through the mud and Collins punted to Yates on the Princeton 29.

Tigers Make First Down

Princeton made first down to the 40 on a series of line smashes by Hanson and Rumley and then lost on the next downs and Hanson was forced to punt. Hoeman was spilled on the Dixon 23 and on a fake punt Quilhot made 8 yards through center and then a first down to the Dixon 33.

Weidman made three yards but Gilbert lost four and Collins punted out of bounds on the Princeton 45.

Princeton made first down to the Dixon 44 on a series of three plays with Rumley and Hanson carrying. As the quarter ended the Tigers were unable to gain much ground and Hanson punted to Egler who was dropped on the Dixon 29.

Weidman picked up a yard around the left side of his line and the Dukes suffered a five-yard off-side penalty. On a reverse Egler went to the 30 and Quilhot went for a first down. He picked up five more yards and Egler's pass over the line to Shank was good to the Princeton 40.

Quilhot, Egler and Weidman all tried to gain on line smashes and a pass by Egler failed to make the necessary yardage. After two callings for offside (once both and once Princeton) Egler finally got off a boot to Young who was halted on the Princeton 7.

Hanson Rips Through Center

Hanson ripped through the center of the line for a first down on the Princeton 19, but could get no more than a yard on the next two plays and punted to Egler who was stopped on the Dixon 49.

Egler's pass was intercepted by Yates who skimmed over the muddy ground to the Princeton 46 before he was stopped.

Hanson made a yard through center and Yates made it first down on a left end run to the Dixon 39.

Hanson and Yates combined on the next two plays to make another first down to the Dukes' 29. Then it was Hanson for five, Yates for two, Hanson for two and Hanson through left guard and tackle for a first down to the Dixon 12.

A pass from Mercer to Bob Frantzen was good for the touchdown as the latter skirted the left side of his line and Dixon couldn't get at him when an official got a little mixed up in the play ... which is no alibi, but no help, either.

Hanson plunged through the line for the extra point.

There was only time for the kickoff and one play by Dixon (Egler fumbled and Princeton recovered on the Dixon 40) before the half ended.

Second Half

Starting the second half Princeton kicked off into the end zone, instead of falling on the ball for six points—the "cautious" Dukes did not and a touchdown was washed into Rock river.

The ball came out to the 20 and Princeton failed to make much gain and Hanson punted out of bounds at mid field. Egler lost eight yards on a reverse, Joynt picked up six yards and a pass by Egler over the line failed forcing him to punt to Yates who was spilled on the Princeton 9.

Quilhot spun into the line for three yards. Egler fumbled a pass from center and recovered for a loss of 12 yards. Then he passed to Shank and it was good until the latter fumbled and Princeton recovered on the Tigers' own 38.

Yates made three drives at the line but was halted or tossed back each time and Hanson booted to Egler who was down at midfield.

Quilhot fumbled and Princeton recovered on the Dixon 45. Runley and Yates failed to make the gains and again Hanson booted the ball ... this time out of bounds on the Dixon 15.

Dukes Lose Yardage

Egler lost two yards on a left end run and Quilhot regained them on second down. Princeton fumbled the kick reception and Dixon recovered on the 42 of the Dukes.

Egler went two yards through right guard and tackle and Quilhot added two more yards as the third period ended.

A pass from Egler to Van Meter was good for a first down to the Princeton 41. Another pass attempt failed and Joynt picked up five yards and Quilhot made one before Dixon's punt was practically blocked and landed on the Tigers' 18. Yates took the ball on a lateral and fumbled as Dixon recovered on the Princeton 25. But the scoring chance ended when a bad pass from center caused the Dixon ball carrier (it was too muddy to see who it was) fumbled and Princeton recovered on the 33.

Dukes Get Another Chance

Hanson drove through center for five yards before he was halted for no gain. Princeton tried to punt but lost seven yards before getting it off and on a second attempt the kick was blocked by Shank and Dixon claimed the ball on the Princeton 10 for another chance to crack the goal line.

In four downs the Dukes failed to put it over. Quilhot lost a yard on first down, Egler's pass to Knack failed and Joynt went to the eight before he was stopped. On fourth down Wiener passed but it was broken up by the Tigers.

Princeton took over and on second down Hanson ripped through right guard and tackle for a first down to the Princeton 28.

Frantzen and Hanson couldn't make much ground and Hanson's punt to Egler was received on the Dixon 40.

Pass, Pass, Pass

Loftus passed and it was ruled complete due to interference on the Princeton 39. Two more passes by Loftus failed and the third was intercepted by Princeton. Princeton had two plays before the game ended.

Scoring two touchdowns within the first few minutes of play and then adding another in the last of the initial period, the Dixon freshman-sophomore team last night won the championship of their division of the North Central conference with a muddy 19 to 0 victory over the Princeton Tiger Cubs on the local gridiron.

Stunning the visitors with rapid fire action at the start of the game, the Dukes held on to their comfortable lead as they slithered around in the mud and downpour.

Meinke returned the first kickoff for a touchdown. A few minutes later when Princeton received the punt and fumbled, Dixon scored again when Cramer fumbled and Walters fell on the ball back of the goal for another touchdown. Later Alexander galloped along the sideline for a 40-yard run for the third goal and Cooper made the extra point.

As for the rest of the game—it was as muffled up as the suits the boys wore and it took a good spectator to tell what was cooking.

Robinson Wins in Battle Last Eve with Fritzie Zivic

By GENE TALBOT

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Starved for a good scrap, the fans banded Madison Square Garden five-deep last night to see Ray Robinson, a tall, scared-looking Negro boy, win his 26th straight professional victory at the expense of Fritzie Zivic.

Fritzie is the former welterweight champion, only a few months removed, one of the cleverest workmen in the ring today. He wound up last night with a left eye practically closed.

Robinson is about the most promising youngster to come along since Joe Louis. He spotted Zivic better than six pounds—139½ to 145½—and came on to win the last three rounds of a 10 rounder and beat his veteran opponent.

Not a Knockdown

There wasn't a knockdown. Neither fighter was staggered nor seriously hurt. They simply fought for 10 rounds—hard and constantly. At the end there was no complaint from the overflow crowd of 20,551. It had seen a battle.

Robinson, facing by far the best man he yet has encountered, covered himself with glory. The tall Negro kid, originally from Detroit but now a Harlem resident, took everything Zivic could offer in the middle rounds and then came on to beat him.

It might have been called a draw. It was close. Yet Zivic—the broken-nose veteran from Pittsburgh—looked entirely crestfallen when he returned to his corner after the last bell.

There is nobody for Robinson to conquer now except Freddie (Red) Cochrane, the welterweight champion and Freddie is in the navy.

IOWA VS. INDIANA

(By The Associated Press)

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Bill Green, Iowa's ace fullback, was ready to go again today as the Hawkeyes engaged Indiana in a Western Conference battle.

The Hawks, who have produced only one touchdown in their last three games, were expected to present a much stronger attack with Green available. Indiana, however, figured to win on the basis of its showing against Nebraska and Wisconsin.

PURDUE VS. FORDHAM

New York, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Unbeaten in four previous games, the Fordham Rams expected to whip Purdue today and coast through to an undefeated season. A soggy turf loomed as a handicap for John Petty, Boilermaker plunger.

THOUSANDS OF ALUMNI RETURN TO ILLINOIS FOR HOMECOMING SOCIETY

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Thousands of men and women came back to the University of Illinois today for a week-end of homecoming festivities.

The campus where the "homecoming" idea originated 31 years ago was a blaze of orange and blue. More than 100 fraternities, sororities and independent student houses were decorated with bunting, banners and colored lights.

A handsome new building also carried the university's colors. It was the $1,500,000 Illini union, built to serve as the community center for 12,000 students, 1,500 faculty members and 150,000 alumni.

Governor Dwight H. Green was here to deliver an address at the dedication of the building, which was financed through the University of Illinois Foundation, with contributions from alumni and friends of the university.

A giant homecoming luncheon will be served in the building after the dedication ceremonies. A general alumni reunion will be held in the stadium after the football game between the Illini and the University of Michigan.

BULLETINS!

DESTROY SHIPPING

Berlin, Nov. 1.—(AP)—German bombers were credited by the high command today with destroying 31,000 more tons of shipping in the war against British sea-borne supplies.

One 2,000-ton freighter was said to have been sunk off the Faroe islands, and four others, including a large tanker, totaling 29,000 tons were listed as sunk from a convoy off the British east coast.

SHELL DOVER COAST

London, Nov. 1.—(AP)—German channel guns shelled the vicinity of Dover on the English southeast coast this afternoon. Two salvos of two shells each were fired within 20 minutes.

The shells crashed with shaking explosions which some people at first thought were heavy peals of thunder. Dover's shell-fire warning was sounded after the second salvo.

WAR IN AFRICA

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Even the possibility of a United States expeditionary force landing in Africa may be examined in exhaustive surveys being undertaken by two American military missions in the middle east.

One mission in Iraq and Iran, under Brigadier General Raymond A. Wheeler with headquarters at Basra, will be slanted primarily at the problem of getting aid to Soviet Russia through the Persian gulf route, it was disclosed.

LaSalle County

lotted 80 minutes of competitive husking, but that didn't stop Wise and four others from breaking the old state record of 45.43, set last year by Ecus Vaughn of Platt county.

Defending Champ

Vaughn was third this year, with second place going to Leland Klein of Woodford county, who scored 47.92 bushels. As a result Klein as well as Wise will compete in the national contest against the 20 best men from ten other corn growing states.

In jeopardy will be the national contest record, 46.71, bushels set last year by Irvin Bauman of Woodford county. Bauman retired from competition this year and rooted for his neighbor, Klein.

Bauman was the Illinois No. 2 man last year and hoped that Klein, rather than Wise, the local favorite, would get the national crown.

Fourteen of the 16 contestants picked more than 40 bushels of corn yesterday. Following Wise and Klein were Vaughn with 47.23 bushels, Leonard Thompson, Shelby county, 45.86, and Earl Noard of Stark, 45.56, all of whom bettered Vaughn's 1940 state mark.

Expect 150,000 Spectators
Wise's sensational victory sent boosters of the four-day harvest celebration of a tour of LaSalle county today. They still hoped that the advance prediction of 150,000 spectators at the national contest would be correct.

But the state contest, which with decent weather might have had a 50,000 turnout, was a bitter disappointment to concessionaries.

Prairie Farmer, sponsor of the dual events, early yesterday advised people to stay at home, out of the mud. Even so, unofficial estimates were that somewhere from 3,000 to 5,000 persons were on Schafer's farm, mostly trying to keep dry in exhibitors' tents.

Farm tractors succeeded in hauling the huskers waggons thru the fields and to the weighing lot, but the mud was so bad that two engines in tandem were hooked to many of the loaded wagons.

In mid-afternoon it was raining so hard that it required the judges took an extra hour to compute the net scores, after making deductions for corn left in the field and husks left on the ears.

WHISTLE FACTS

The whistle of a locomotive is higher in pitch as a train approaches and lower after it has passed because as the train approaches, vibrations strike the ear with increasing frequency, causing a higher pitch. After passing, the vibrations are strung out as the distance increases.

Licensed to Wed—

A marriage license has been issued by County Clerk Sterling Schrock to Howard C. Zentz and Miss Ethel M. Helfrich, both of this city.

Checks Will Be Honored—

County Treasurer Ward Miller stated today that checks for delinquent personal taxes will be honored at his office Monday before the publication of the delinquent personal property tax list on Thursday, Nov. 6. Weather conditions which have made it impossible for many delinquents to take advantage of the closing date prompted Treasurer Miller to extend the expiration date until Monday.

Dixon Woman Dies—

Mrs. Sophie Schultz of Dixon, mother of Herbert Schultz of rural route 3, died last night at a Moline hospital, where she had been a patient for some time. Funeral services will be conducted from the Woods Funeral Home at Sterling at 2 p. m. Monday. Mrs. Schultz was the widow of Herman Schultz.

Win Drawing Contest —

Joe Ann Whitlow of 518 Second street won first honors and a cash award of $3 in the soap picture contest sponsored last evening at Erzinger shoe store. Leslie Smith of 910 Hennepin avenue received $2 for second place, and $1 each was given to Jacqueline Grams of 804 Inlet avenue, who won third, and Betty Shaver of 718 Second street, who ranked fourth. Theater tickets were presented to ten other contestants.

Bauman was the Illinois No. 2 man last year and hoped that Klein, rather than Wise, the local favorite, would get the national crown.

mine workers become members of the union.

Strike at Dock Settled

While the coal situation remained unsettled, an agreement was reached between workers and employer at the Robins Drydock, Brooklyn, N. Y., where a strike has delayed work for nearly a week on British and American ship repairs.

The agreement, the company said, raised the wage of laborers to 72 1/2 cents hourly, and of helpers now earning below 74 cents to 74 cents. Helpers now getting between 74 and 78 cents would receive 78 cents, and those now paid 78 cents an hour would continue on that scale.

Work went ahead at the Bendix, N. J., plant of Air Associates, Inc., under a guard of soldiers and under the supervision of Col. Roy M. Jones, Army Air Corps officer. The plant, with $5,000,000 in vital defense orders, has been through a series of difficulties. The dispute began when the C. I. O. attempted to organize the plant three years ago. The union subsequently won a National Labor Relations Board election. The most recent strike, called Sept. 30 when the union charged the management with unfair labor practices, was ended by executive action. President Roosevelt ordered the plant seized on the ground the firm had not carried out the mediation board's recommendations that previous strikers be rehired.

decision and ignorance.

No government has had a monopoly on these practices, although the British method is to censor outgoing copy directly, piece by piece, in the cable office the German method is to put the author on his own responsibility, which means he must answer for what he has written after it has been sent and published; the Dutch method, before Holland was invaded, was to merely make the "unsatisfactory" story vanish without trace in transit.

Thus, for "reasons of military secrecy," a painstaking British censor in 1939 snipped from the story of the sinking of the aircraft carrier Courageous all mention of the warship's specifications, although they had been published all over the world in naval handbooks for years.

Neville Chamberlain's commons speech on the declaration of war was held up five hours, although everyone knew he was making it, and even now the British censor refuses to permit correspondents to say that Winston Churchill is making a house of commons declaration until several hours have elapsed. Although he permits the prime minister's words to be cabled ahead of time if they are credited merely to an "authoritative source". When this "authoritative" source starts talking about "that wicked man," or about "the broad sunlit plain," or even a hush league spy could guess it was Churchill.

In Germany, there obviously were other considerations besides those of security when authorities told foreign correspondents that they had better limit their coverage of RAF air raids to the official communiques, which "always say, with slight variation, that "weak forces of enemy aircraft were driven off."

The Netherlands press chief in the Hague gave orders that any cable which so much as mentioned "water line" defenses was to do a disappearing act in the general post-office, but when British and American correspondents complained that this and other prohibitions did not seem to touch the vast corps of German "correspondents" then in Holland, the press chief replied hotly that "we have no difficulties with the German correspondents."

That poor man, I heard recently, is now in a German concentration camp.

Most censors are human chaps with rule-books which they must follow but which they do not necessarily agree with; with jobs which they want to keep. Sometimes, however, their job overwhelms them, as it did with the London censor who had to stay on duty at a cable office while most of his colleagues were headed to a cocktail party for the American press.

With the party well under way, the censor phoned the Associated Press Bureau from his lonely desk and—in a stage whisper—offered:

"Haven't you got anything good you want to send along? I'll pass it if you do. I'll fix the ministry for leaving me out of that party."

AMERICAN POPULATION

The Census Bureau reports 150,000,000 persons now live under the United States flag, 19,000,000 of whom live outside continental United States.

Blame Ice on Controls For Crash of Air Liner

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Ice on the controls was suggested today by Royal Canadian Air Force officers as the probable cause of the air tragedy in which an American Airlines transport plane crashed into an outfield in a drizzling rain and killed its 17 passengers and three crew members near here Thursday night.

Flight Lieutenant Jack Gray of the nearby Fingal bombing and gunnery school said airmen had been warned that ice formations could be expected that night.

Investigation indicated that Captain David Cooper fought to the last instant to save his 21-passenger Douglas air transport. The top of the control lever was found still clutched in his right hand.

London Editorial Calls U. S. Destroyer Loss Hitler's War Declaration

London, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard declared editorially today that the torpedo-sinking of the U. S. destroyer Reuben James west of Iceland Thursday night was a declaration of war by Adolf Hitler.

"America has not yet declared war," said the newspaper owned by the British minister of supply. "Hitler has."

"The president and his people have long since taken their stand on the principle of freedom of the seas. From that position they will not be budged. It is the bedrock of American defense, and Hitler has now challenged the freedom of the seas as surely as he has invaded Russia."

Snowstorm Ties Up Traffic at Omaha

Omaha, Nov. 1.—(AP)—Communication facilities were restored and highway traffic resumed today after a tie-up caused by a five-inch snowfall—one of the earliest consequential snowstorms in the memory of Omaha residents.

Mild temperatures forestalled additional damage to telephone and telegraph lines, many of which snapped last night under weight of soggy snow. Slush-covered highways continued to slow traffic, however.

Starting early yesterday and continuing until early today, the snow crushed tree branches, grounded airplanes, caused cancellation of football games and crippled communication throughout eastern Nebraska and western Iowa.

Unexplained Blast Kills 27 in Canada

Nordeg, Alberta, Nov. 1.—(AP)—A toll of 27 lives was set tentatively today in an unexplained blast which yesterday caved in a section deep in the Brazeau collieries in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains two miles from here.

The bodies of 21 miners were recovered last night and mine officials abandoned hope that six others still underground had survived the explosion in the fourth left level, three-quarters of a mile from the entrance.

Six states, Delaware, Idaho, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota and Vermont, have only one city of 25,000 or more population.

U. S. cotton crop for 1941 is estimated at 10,817,000 bales, as compared with the 1940 output of 12,566,000 bales.

the tough mountain folk of Serbia, who paid for noncooperation with 345 lives.

For an attack on two German soldiers alone, 200 Serbs were reported killed in reprisal.

Close on the heels of the Serbs come the Croats. A total of 254 are said to have made the one-way trip to the execution square, mostly on charges of being communists.

Charge Widespread Plots

Orders of Reinhard Heydrich, reichs protector of Bohemia-Moravia, have sent at least 195 Czechs to death, mostly on charges of economic sabotage in what were termed widespread plots. Heydrich accused groups of Czechs of trying to wreck distribution of food and blame it on Germany. He dissolved the Sokol physical education movement.

Eighteen Poles, 20 Belgians, 15 Dutchmen, 14 citizens of Germany, four Bulgars, 42 Rumanians and 13 Greeks have been reported executed since June 22.

Among the reasons given were treason, sabotage, possession of weapons, being a communist, stabbing a German soldier, attacking a policeman, possessing explosives, attempting to flee to the enemy side and aiding the enemy.

exercised under international law and under American law," Green said in an address prepared for senate delivery. "We will again be free to act as free men and assert and enforce our rights to the freedom of the seas. This does not mean going to war. . . . War may follow, but it is less likely to follow if we repeal these provisions than if we keep bound by them."

"The so-called neutrality act . . . was an act of appeasement toward Hitler in the hope that if we were not only neutral but also were willing to give up some of our rights as a neutral, he would respect our remaining rights. The hope has proved futile."

Saturday Session

Leaders called the senate into an unusual Saturday session today in an effort to pass the neutrality revision legislation not later than next Wednesday. Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), a leading opponent of the measure, told reporters, however that action was unlikely before next week-end.

Wheeler conceded that the opposition would poll only 42 or 43 votes against the legislation, while 49 would be required for a clear majority of the senate membership. The board revision was recommended by the senate foreign relations committee as a substitute for the house-approved bill limited to arming merchant ships.

Australia has 14.7 radio receiving sets for every 100 of population, standing sixth on the international list.

Sunday, November 9, "Seeking World Order."

Monday, November 10, "Building Physical Fitness."

Tuesday, Nov. 11, "Strengthening National Morale."

Wednesday, November 12, "Improving Economic Well-Being."

Thursday, November 13, "Safeguarding School Support."

Friday, November 14, "Learning the Ways of Democracy."

Saturday, November 15, "Enriching Family Life."

Both of the local schools are planning to direct the activities for the week of November 9 around the topic set up by the national organization. It is hoped that a large number of parents and patrons will take advantage of the opportunities to become better acquainted with the needs, aims, and achievements of the school.

The two schools are making definite plans for the parents and patrons of the community to register for definite classes on Monday evening, November 10 at 7:30. The Parent-Teacher Association, two faculties, and the student bodies are hoping to have every parent and many of the patrons of the schools in the community get the thrill of actually enrolling in definite classes on the evening of November 10.

There will be a school band concert from 7:30 to 8:00 in the high school auditorium. From 8:00 to 8:30 the adults will go to the various classes in which they will enroll in either the grade school or high school. Each person will have the opportunity to visit at least two classes, in which the teachers will explain the objectives, methods, contents and vocational aspects of the subjects that he or she teaches. Every parent and patron of the school should be very much interested in going back to school to observe the present day procedures as well as getting better acquainted with teachers of our public schools. After the class periods everyone will again meet for a short general assembly in the high school auditorium after which the high school home economics girls will serve a school lunch.

7:30—All parents to meet in high school assembly room for band concert to be given by School Band.

8:00—Parents to meet in classes at the two schools.

8:55—Return to assembly room for final assembly period.

9:00—Refreshments served by the high school girls.

The high school classes will meet for two periods of twenty minutes each. The first period takes up at 8:05; the second at 8:30. The teachers have been assigned classes as follows:

Mr. Hoff, Chemistry, first period.

Mr. Henricks, Mathematics, second period.

Mr. Schrader, Social Science and Physical Education, first period.

Miss McColl, Latin, Spanish and Literature, second period.

Miss Coulson, Commercial, first period.

Miss Murphy, Home Economics, first period.

Mr. Dunk, Agriculture, second period.

Mr. Ward, Science, first period.

Miss Savage, Journalism, Speech and English, second period.

Mrs. Schrader, Physical Education, second period.

Mrs. Amarsud, Music, first period.

The grade school groups will meet for three ten-minute periods with a fifteen minute period made available at the close for parents to look around. The teachers have been assigned periods and classes as follows:

Miss Peugh, first grade: personality adjustments; beginning reading; first steps in writing.

Miss Neely, second grade: reading; numbers; spelling.

Miss Burson, third grade: reading; language; tonettes.

Miss Wingard, fourth grade: health and safety; geography; arithmetic.

Mr. Williams, fifth grade: history and geography; arithmetic; school citizenship.

Miss Mott, sixth grade: reading; English 8.

Miss Turner, seventh grade: home economics 7; science 8.

Mr. Yeakel, eighth grade: manual training 8; history 7.

Miss Miller, music room: music, art 7; music, art 6.

Mr. Patterson, eighth grade room: history 6.

Note: Guides will be stationed in the two buildings to assist parents in finding the various rooms in which the classes are to be held.

Through the efforts of the Mt. Morris Woman's club the general public will have opportunity to learn more about the operations of the American Society for the Control of Cancer next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the town hall when the club will present two well-known out-of-town speakers on the subject. There will be no admission charge and because of the intense desire on the part of every one to do all that can be done to control this deadly disease, men and women alike are urged to attend this meeting.

Dr. A. R. K. Matthews, pathologist at St. Anthony hospital in Rockford where a tumor-consulting service is maintained, will be main speaker. A member of the American Board of Pathology who has had post-graduate training at the University of Western Ontario, Dr. Matthews is highly regarded for his work in this field and he will give a thorough presentation on his subject.

Also heard at the meeting will be Mrs. Arthur I. Edison of Chicago, who is state commander of the Women's Field Army. She will have with her a film, "Choose to Live," with an operator to show it, which will be highly instructive. It is the desire of the Woman's Field Army as a subsidiary of the American Society for the Control of Cancer to carry into every home in America the message that cancer can be cured if diagnosed and treated early. It is the recognition of the early stages that makes it so vital that nothing should be spared in acquainting the public with the various stages of the disease.

The regular November meeting of the club board will be held during the hour preceding the address.

The De Molay club are sponsoring a dance tonight at the town hall. There will be dancing from 9 till midnight. The public is invited.

The women of the Methodist church are serving their annual turkey dinner at the church Wednesday, Nov. 5. Committees in charge include Mrs. M. C. Small and Frances Arp. Kitchen and Robt. Hough, Jay Cratty and Paul Barnhizer in the dining room.

RAF Fliers Get War Training in South Carolina

Camden, S. C.—(The Special News Service)—The sandy soil of South Carolina is a long flight from the airdromes of England, but it's training ground for Britain's RAF.

On a sun-baked flying field near this sleepy little city, 108 British youths are learning the fundamentals of flying before going on to advanced courses and then back home to take their place in the Royal Air Force.

They seem strangely out of place with their clipped British accents in this land of fried chicken, hot biscuits and southern drawls. But they're picking up American habits and tastes fast, and they haven't had much time to get homesick because of the hospitality hereabouts.

These young fellows were white-collar workers in civil life, called into service as Britain's need for manpower became greater. They had no experience with such things as airplanes or automobiles until they came to this country. They are astounded at the fact that almost everyone drives an automobile.

"An automobile is much too dear for an average man to own in England," one of the youths said. "What with the taxes and high cost of petrol, it just isn't done. But here—why everyone can drive or owns an automobile."

Thirty Americans Take Course
Thirty Americans are taking the elementary flying course with the British at the Southern Aviation School, a privately-owned organization which operates under contract with the British and United States governments.

The British youths are looking forward to going home. While they are enjoying their stay in this country, their big ambition is to get into the fight.

The one touch of home the British boys appear to miss most is tea-time, but there's compensation in the invitations to homes of the southerners during week end leaves.

Bob Hope (no relation to the comedian) a lanky Londoner with a lean-sunbrowned face, grins at the mention of tea-time.

Make Own Tea
"Most of the people have learned to let us make our own tea," he smiles. "It's an art, you know. To make good tea as we like it, you must heat the tea pot, then put the tea leaves in the pot and pour boiling water over them. After two or three minutes it is ready to pour."

Bob can't quite get used to the "vastness of your country," the friendliness of the people, tried chicken, the youthful age at which American girls are married, and of course, the great number of automobiles.

"Come, come, Matur, gain. Practice makes many takes," said a rather whiny voice with wheedling overtones.

"That's Von Sternberg talking," whispered my guide. "That's Victor Mature in the fez."

"Quiet," said Von Sternberg. "Action." Everything froze, but Mature. He obviously tried to say something with his eyes, then he banged the keys of the piano, strode off the stage, passed us like a race horse, and disappeared.

"All right, all right," came Von Sternberg in that special voice Major Bowes uses for amateurs that flop. "Lights, next scene." Then he raised his voice. "Who's there?" He glared at us. We were at least 30 feet from him in the dark. But he had heard.

He came toward us. He's a middle-sized man, paunchy, with thick gray hair. He had a pleased-with-Von Sternberg smile. He shook hands saying, "how would you like to meet the old heavy?"

The next act was ready, so he walked away. Cameras and sound machines had been shoved back to take in a larger area; part of the dining room scene, in the house of Mother Goddam. For the sake of movie property she'll be called Mother Gin Sling.

The dining room is something. It's supposed to be Von Sternberg's idea. The walls are 2,500 feet of mirror on which there is painted a mural of 700 full size Chinese figures. Done in opaque oils and gold leaf.

Domestic airlines carried 353,478 revenue passengers a total of 130,680,225 passenger-miles in June, both figures setting new all-time records in the U. S.

$83,374,165 In Defense Contracts Are Awarded In Illinois Last Week

Chicago, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The Illinois Manufacturers' Association reported that defense contracts amounting to $83,374,165 were awarded in the state last week. Of the total, which included orders for buildings and facilities, $31,476,317 went to down-state firms.

On a sun-baked flying field near this sleepy little city, 108 British youths are learning the fundamentals of flying before going on to advanced courses and then back home to take their place in the Royal Air Force.

Movie Guide Is Nervous Before Von Sternberg

By SIGRID ARNE

Hollywood—(The Special News Service)—My guide was obviously nervous. She couldn't get her words out. We were headed for the sound stage where Josef Sternberg is making "The Shanghai Gesture."

She finally said, "please, do be careful. Von Sternberg is—er—well-different. Don't make any noise. Stand back so he can't see you. He blows off hard when he gets mad. Yes—er—this is known in Hollywood as his comeback. He—hasn't done much in five years."

Von Sternberg gets a bigger build-up from the gossips than most actors. "They" say there are actors who won't work for him. He returns the complaint. "They" say he works like a miniature artist. Taking, re-taking, changing, shading, until actors turn white with fatigue. Or purple with rage.

We stepped onto the sound stage. A spotlight fell on a handsome dark man in a red fez, leaning disconsolately on the keyboard of a grand piano. We could see a huddle of men just in front of the red fez.

"Come, come, Matur, gain. Practice makes many takes," said a rather whiny voice with wheedling overtones.

"That's Von Sternberg talking," whispered my guide. "That's Victor Mature in the fez."

"Quiet," said Von Sternberg. "Action." Everything froze, but Mature. He obviously tried to say something with his eyes, then he banged the keys of the piano, strode off the stage, passed us like a race horse, and

Nine Years Old
Mrs. Donald Butler entertained with a dinner Wednesday evening honoring the 9th birthday anniversary of her daughter Mary Louise. The table was decorated with Halloween novelties. Games and jokes were played. Those present to enjoy the party were: Carolyn Herbst, Beverly Watson, Birdie Lou Pfoutz, Judy Grady, Marjorie Baker, Idell Pick, Eugene Degner and Roger Taylor. Mary Louise received some very lovely gifts.

Attended Meeting
Mesdames Herman Schaefer, William Schaefer, Henry Schaefer, Arthur Schaefer, Misses Cora and Dorothy Schaefer attended the Lutheran Woman's Missionary Federation held in the St. Paul Lutheran church in Peoria Wednesday.

Presbyterian Church Notes
Sunday school 9:30
Preaching 9:50, Rev. Chester Patton will speak. His text will be "In the Twinkling of an Eye" or "The Rapture of the Church". The members and friends of the church are urged to be present and hear Rev. Patton as well as November 9th to hear Rev. Montanus.

Visited Here
Saturday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haenisch were: Mrs. Haenisch's mother Mrs. Delilah Cripe and her brother Robert Johnson and wife and daughter all of Mt. Carroll; Mrs. Cripe remained for an extended visit in the Haenisch home.

Gone to California
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross left Thursday for Los Angeles, Calif. where Mr. Gross will attend the National Insurance Convention which will be held in the Biltmore hotel. They plan to be gone the most of November.

Attended Funeral
George Lahman, Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes, Miss Clara Lahman and Luther Durkes motored to Mt. Vernon, Iowa Wednesday where they attended the funeral of E. Raymond Lahman a brother to the first three named. Mr. Lahman was a former resident of this community where he spent his boyhood days. He was about 74 years.

Two weeks ago last Sunday he and his wife celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary. Mr. Lahman died Monday morning from a heart attack.

Birthday Honored
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller and family entertained relatives of Mrs. Miller Monday evening, honoring her brother, Charles Haenisch, on his birthday anniversary. Fifteen enjoyed the oyster stew and scramble supper.

Army Address
Mr. and Mrs. Foster Mattem have received word from their son Robert Mattem who has been en-played in California for the past several years that he had been drafted into the U. S. Army. His address is: Robert Mattem, Coast Guard Artillery, Camp Callan, San Diego, California. "Bob" as he is known to all here, will be mighty glad to hear from the folks back home.

Scramble Supper
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross' of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gross of Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leake of Amboy and Mrs. Jennie Oakes Suter of Delavan, Wisconsin, enjoyed a scramble supper Wednesday evening with Mrs. Eliza Oakes in Lee Center.

Seniors Present Play
Friday, November 7th at 8:00 p. m. the Seniors of the Franklin Grove high school will present a laugh-provoking play entitled "The Eighteen Carat Boob" by Lillian Mortimer, in the Kersten Gym.

The story concerns a summer house party at the Long Island home of Alice Bissette (Vivian Miller) during which the search for a jewel thief comes to a climax. The colored servants Cora, the housekeeper (Mary Jane Norris) and her husband, the chauffeur (Melvin Unger) furnish the southern dialect. Alice's very good friend, Daisy Bell (Alfreda Tholen), brings her country cousin (?) "Buddy Pluff" (Donald Bennett) who supplies side-splitting comedy for everyone. Billy Kerns (Charles Baker, Jr.) a sissified bookworm and lipping Kitty Darling (Donna Gilbert) battle through a bad case of puppy love. Alice's father Lynn Bissette (Howard Karper, Jr.) distrusts Jack Merry (Ivan Hullah) Alice's choice and urges her to marry Raymond Barkville (John Lee), a mysterious suitor. Ann (Josephine Kennedy), a maid, adds to the mystery.

Tentative plans are under way for incidental orchestra music. Tickets may be purchased now at a reduced rate, advanced prices being 25c for bleacher seats; 30c and 25c for main floor. The night of the play prices will advance to 30c for bleacher seats; 35c and 30c for main floor seats. Get your tickets now from any senior and save money! Be sure and see this play since it will be the only one presented before next spring.

Personal Items
Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haenisch and daughter Carmen, and Mrs. Delilah Cripe were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daehler, near Chadwick. Roy Johnson who was stationed at Camp Forrest, Tenn., has been released on the age limit and is now in the home of his mother, Mrs. Seeka Johnson at Lighthouse. Mrs. George Hawbecker was taken to the Dixon hospital Tuesday evening for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and family have moved here from Dixon and are living in the Eldon Wilson property. Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Cover motored to Canton, Ill. Monday where they visited their son and family. Mr. Cover's mother returned home with them and will remain here during the winter. Born-To Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hussey a daughter, October 29th. Edwin Sarwin, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Breunier submitted to an operation Wednesday at the Dixon hospital. The ladies of the Lighthouse Methodist church will serve a chicken and noodle supper Thursday, November 6, beginning at 5:30. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wilson and twins Carol and Carl of Rockford were Saturday night and Sunday guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blume.

81st Anniversary
On Monday, October 27, 1941 Garnet chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois celebrated their thirty-first anniversary.

The meeting was opened in regular form, both guests and past matrons were honored by being escorted. At this time Miss Dorothy Durkes, worthy matron, was introduced as a members of ways and means committee of the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star of Illinois and she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums by the chapter. The feature of the evening was the initiation of Mrs. L. L. Durkes into the order. After the impressive initiatory service the meeting continued.

An excellent report of grand chapter proceedings was given by Mrs. W. L. Moore. After the meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed and refreshments featuring a birthday cake and following the Halloween motif were enjoyed.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Vernon Tenant, Mr. and Mrs. Santleman of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Faber, Mr. and Mrs. George Beach, Mrs. Weisner, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Vernon Chapman, Mrs. Nellie Raymer and Mrs. Raymond Loesey all of Ashton.

Oyster Supper and Bazaar
The annual oyster supper of the Presbyterian church will be held in the church basement Saturday, November 8th. The following splendid menu will be served for what an oyster stew would cost in a restaurant: Hot oyster stew, pressed chicken, potato salad, cabbage salad, jelly, pickles, rolls, hot coffee and cake. They'll Do It Every Time

Expert Meat-Cutter To Appear at School For Housewives Here

F. J. FRET

An unusual, timely event is scheduled for Dixon on Tuesday, November 4. A meat-cutting and cooking school, featuring thrifty cuts, is to be held at the Loveland Building that evening at 7:30. Dixon butchers, appliance dealers, and the Illinois Northern Utilities Co. will co-sponsor this "defense-budget" cooking school. To start this interesting program, F. J. Frett, Department of Distributive Education, state of Illinois, will cut up a whole carcass on the stage, explaining the origin of the different cuts, and how you can recognize them. Mr. Frett, an experienced meat cutter, will then explain and demonstrate vitamin and food value contents of the less expensive cuts of beef, veal, lamb, and pork.

The second part of this program designed to help Dixon housewives lower their budget and still furnish plenty of meat in the diet, will be conducted by trained home economists. These experts will actually cook the thriffter cuts on the stage, and show many new ways of making them more appetizing than ever. A free meat cook book will be given every adult attending. Contained in this book are cooking charts, nutrition tables, and many recipes, all dealing with budget meats.

There will be no activity on appliance selling at this school, according to the sponsors. This school is being offered as a practical means to help stabilize your budget while still furnishing plenty of meat in the diet. Admission is free.

EARTH SLANTS

Since the earth does not spin around its orbit in an upright position, but leans at an angle, the southern hemisphere has short days when the northern hemisphere has long days, and vice versa.

The Statue of Liberty is visited by more than 250,000 persons every year.

Up to June 30, 1939, the U. S. Veterans bureau had expended $22,759,941,037. In 1930, 16 tons of gardenias were air-expressed from San Francisco, Calif.
